+1 I would only add that with the `re.test()` method, one need to be aware of the behavior of the `re.lastIndex` property which contains the offset of the last match (and is where the next match attempt will start). This does not apply in this case since the method is being applied to a regex literal, but this does matter if the regex object is stored in a variable and then used more than once ...

Does the name CARE stand for anything as an acronym? CARE was founded in the United States in 1945 when it sent food parcels to Europe. The name stood for 'Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe'. As CARE's activities broadened, this was changed to the 'Cooperative for Assistance and Relief Everywhere'. Today the name is used in its own right rather than as an
