Whole-exome sequencing was performed on 363 HCC cases for a mean coverage of 95% of targeted bases with a minimum of 20-fold coverage. In total, 12,136 genes had non-silent mutations, and 26 genes were determined to be significantly mutated genes (SMGs) by the MutSigCV algorithm (Lawrence et al., 2014) (Figure 1, Tables S2A and S2B, STAR Methods).

The activity of Bone Morphogenetic Proteins (BMPs) was first observed in the mid-1960s when it was discovered they could induce ectopic bone formation. 1 It was not until the late 1980s, however, when the first BMPs were characterized and cloned, that individual BMPs could be studied biochemically. 2 Many studies have since demonstrated the ability of BMPs to induce mesenchymal stem cells to ...

By FISH, Kraus et al. (1994) mapped the CTNNB1 gene to 3p21, a region frequently affected by somatic alterations in a variety of tumors. Using PCR primers for the genomic amplification of beta-catenin sequences on the basis of homology to exon 4 of the Drosophila armadillo gene, they analyzed a panel of somatic cell hybrids to confirm the localization of the gene to human chromosome 3.
